Launched in 2006, TARUS Media is a leading company in health promotion in Romania. The goal of TARUS Media is to bring the latest ideas and concepts of health in Romania, providing medical and pharmaceutical communities a chance to implement models that have proven to be successful in other parts of the world.

Based on our health expertise, we have created a market niche and became a leader in both specialized publishing by successful editorial projects: The British Medical Journal-Romanian Edition, Medica Academica, Maedica J Clin Med and international healthcare events.

TARUS Media is the perfect marketing platform for companies seeking to reach the communities of Romanian health professionals working either in their home country or abroad and patients.

TARUS Media = a 360° marketing platform

British Medical Journal-Romanian Edition

defines the medical information offer through its international perspective and diversity of addressed topics.

Medica Academica

is, by excellence, the journal addressed to health professionals, focusing on three main fields of interest: leadership/career, specialized materials and health policies in Romania.

Maedica

It was created to bring the science closer to the healthcare professionals.

Romanian Journal of Clinical and Experimental Dermatology

Social media
online interactivity and communication with health professionals through Facebook and LinkedIn

Health Events

Focus on launching new products and international events for the Romanian health system. Due to our skills, services, products and expertise, we use a partnership approach which enables us to deliver high quality events, contributing significantly to a sustainable branding.
